KLAW AND ERLANGER FEATURES AT BIJOU

Two of Them Are Shown Today Along with Comedy and News Pictorial.

This is Klaw and Erlanger day at the Bijou. Two of this famous company's productions, "The Soul of Pierre," a three act drama, and "By These Deeds," a two act comedy drama, are shown. A comedy, "Romance a La Carte," is funny and a Hearst-Selig News Pictorial shows current events that are very interesting.

Thursday Charles Chaplin in "Shanghied," his last Essanay release, will be the chief attraction. There is no use saying anything about his fun making qualities. For patrons who do not like Chaplin the management has arranged for a three-part Broadway Star romance, a picture of a class that will please the ladies. As usual the Pathe Daily News will be shown. Also another comedy picture.

Leon Kent is featuring Agnes Vernon in a two-reel Universal production by F. McGrew Willis, entitled "The Girl of the Dance-Hall."

The Broadway favorite, beautiful Julia Dean, appears in the leading role of a Universal Broadway feature, "Judge Not" sublimely pictured and masterfully produced today at the Orpheum theater.

Tomorrow, one of the very funny men, Max Fisman, will be shown in the special comedy, "The Truth Wagon."

A bright and lively musical comedy entitled "McGuire's Reception" is the attraction at the Odeon for today and tomorrow. The production is presented by the Jackson and Andrews Musical Comedy Company. This organization scored a great hit the first two days of this week. The comedy will be handled by Jackson and Oswald.

The beauty chorus will be given to better advantage than in the two preceding numbers. Many of the latest musical scores will be sung, together with some novel and eccentric dancing. The play is gorgeously mounted with special scenery and unique lighting effects. The show is one of the best in the repertoire of the Jackson and Andrews Company, and was well received in Pittsburgh and eastern cities. Three exceptionally good reels of motion pictures complete a splendid evening's entertainment.

Jesse L. Lasky presents the photoplay favorite Blanche Sweet in a picturization of the thrilling detective masterpiece, "The Clue," today at the Robinson Grand. This marvelous detective drama is in the atmosphere of the well known stage version of "The Argyle Case," thrilling, dramatic and sensational to the core, yet plausible and above all things a great object lesson. As usual the added attraction is the Paramount Travelogue, which is South American series number 15.

Tomorrow, Beulah Poynter will be presented in her own play, "Lena Rivers," with Weber and Fields in "Two of the Bravest" as the added attraction.

"Keystone Charley Flirtations" is the new bill being presented at the Palace theater by the United Musical Comedy Company. It will be offered again tomorrow. Charles La Ford, who impersonates Charley Chaplin, was originally the real understudy for Mr. Chaplin for over six months at the Keystone studio in California, and is considered one of the best Chaplin impersonators today. Bert Fox as Chester Conklin also deserves credit for his impersonation of that famous picture comedian. Everybody has seen both of these famous comedians in pictures and this is an opportunity of seeing them in person.

The following pictures are shown today: "The Man from the Desert," a wonderful Vitaphone drama in three parts featuring William Duncan, Myrtle Gonzales; and "The Summoning Shot," a Biograph drama featuring Isabel Rea and Frank Newberg.

WEST VIRGINIA BRIEFS

TERRA ALTA: The state tuberculosis sanitarium now has ninety patients and cannot accommodate more than twenty additional, according to the superintendent, E. E. Clovis.

PIEDMONT: Edward R. Cole, 42, was found unconscious upon the floor of his bath room from a dose of poison and died shortly afterward. The poison was taken for the purpose of quieting his nerves.

HUNTINGTON: Towns Davis, a young man, has a record of having built and sold fifty-six houses in this city during the last four years. He is now building his fifty-seventh and has contracted for an entire square on which he will build dwellings.

BLUEFIELD: C. F. Tolbert, car repairer on the Norfolk and Western railroad, was struck and killed by a locomotive in the local yards.

BERKELEY SPRINGS: Dr. S. M.
Langford, state veterinarian, has completed an examination of Morgan county cattle at the instance of farmers, who believed foot and mouth disease existed, but has found that there is no trace of the disease.

PARKERSBURG: C. C. Martin, a prominent business man, financier and bank president, is dead after a short illness of pneumonia.

PARKERSBURG: The cornerstone of the North Parkersburg Baptist church will be laid with ceremony October 15.

HUNTINGTON: Andrew Varney, the second member of the Mingo county court to resign within a short time, has given up his job. Valentine Hatfield has been appointed to the vacancy.

MORGANTOWN: Number two plant of the United States Window Glass Company, which was idle for some time, has resumed operations with 200 men employed. It is known as the Marilla factory.

BLUEFIELD: Judge James Dam-ron, of the Mingo circuit court, has appointed R. C. Wiles, Harry Scherr and John H. Green a commission to investigate charges of graft that are being made in Mingo county affairs.

HUNTINGTON: J. W. Dinges, postmaster, and others, will make an effort to have the 1917 convention of the National Association of First Class Postmasters held at White Sulphur Springs, near here.

CHARLESTON: According to a bulletin issued from the office of the State Health Department by Dr. S.

L. Jepson, state health commissioner, there have been approximately 7,000 cases of smallpox in West Virginia in the last three years. Dr. Jepson says that ignorant prejudice against vaccination permits the disorder to become prevalent.

CHARLESTON: A deed was recorded here showing the transfer of more than 12,000 acres of coal land on Cabin Creek, in Kanawha county, from the Williams Coal Company and the Cabin Creek Kanawha Coal Company to the Shonk Law Company. The consideration was 400 six per cent first mortgage bonds of the latter company valued at $1-000 each and 200 shares of stock in the Shank company.

CHARLESTON: It has been declared by veterinarians that many of the so-called cases of foot and mouth disease in West Virginia live stock is nothing more than forage poisoning, due to the stock eating grass and forage which has molded at the roots during the recent wet summer.

on Cabin Creek, in Kanawha county,
Company to the Shonk Law Company. The consideration was 400
six per cent first mortgage bonds
of the latter company valued at $1-
the Shank company.

CHARLESTON: The last weekly report of the workmen's compensation commission, shows that 367 accidents, twelve of them fatal, occurred in the state during the week.

PARKERSBURG: The fast Ohio river packet, Joe Fowler, has made its last trip in the Pittsburgh and Louiville trade, according to its owner, Captain E. E. Pope, of this city. Next year the boat will be taken to the lower Ohio or Mississippi.

CHARLESTON: Final certificates have been issued to fifteen of the thirty-two candidates who took the examination September 8 at Morgantown for license to practice law in this state, according to an announcement by the West Virginia Supreme Court.

WHEELING: The "dry" parade which is to precede the Wednesday night session of the West Virginia Law Enforcement Convention in session here, will be followed by a "wet" parade.

HUNTINGTON: The marriage of Buena Vista Elliette and J. C. Eliette, an artist, who created a stir at that body to not allow the Kanawha
and West Virginia Railroad Company to change its station from Washington Springs, near here.

CHARLESTON: Appearing before the Public Service Commission, Miss Maxine May Williams, a girl in her teens, made a speech of appeal to that body to not allow the Kanawha
ton Springs, near here.

bulletin issued from the office of the

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.
All persons indebted to the estate of Wm. J. Keefe, deceased, and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to promptly make settlement of said debts and claims with the undersigned executor.

"Jimmy" Heavner, Wesleyan End.
Clarksburg's representation, at Wesleyan in Heavner and Jacobs on the Varsity, and Harrison on the Reserves, is better than that of any other city in the state in the Orange and Black squad. Heavner has this year again been strongly in the limelight in all of Wesleyan's games. His kicking has been good and his offensive work has been even better than that of last year. He has been injured slightly but will be in the game Saturday.

Lord Kitchner speaks Arabic like a native.
